

Finding accommodation in the UK

Before you begin your programme at London College of Business & Finance, one of your main concerns will probably be where you will live during your studies. Please find below links to useful information to help you to find suitable accommodation in the Campus area.

Types of accommodation

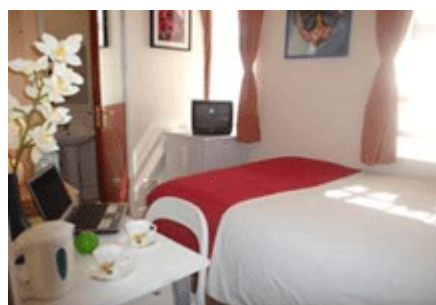

Self-Catering Shared Accommodation

This is private accommodation that you share with other students. Properties are furnished, with each student having their own private bedroom, and sharing the living areas and bathroom. Rent does not usually include payment for water, gas, electricity and telephone charges.

Students are expected to take their own initiative find suitable nearby area to live, also student welfare officer will help you with the process. We (as LCBF) can arrange a temporary accommodation in Barking Hotel for up to 2 weeks maximum.
